1. Introduction

ModeAudio Ltd (hereafter 'us', 'our' or 'we') is a private limited company registered with Her Majesty's Revenue & Customs (HMRC) in the United Kingdom, which owns and controls all displayed products, text, sound, images and other materials contained on www.modeaudio.com / www.modeaudio.co.uk (hereafter the 'website') for the purpose of providing products and services to our website visitors (hereafter the 'user', 'you' or 'your').

These terms and conditions are applicable to any user visiting the website. By using the website, the user agrees to accept these terms and conditions in full. If the user disagrees with any part of the following terms and conditions, they are instructed not to use the website.

2. Products & Services

Our products and services include but are not limited to digital audio files (loops and samples), MIDI (musical instrument digital interface) files and software synthesiser presets (hereafter 'digital content').

Please note that all digital content is licensed to you and not sold. The licence that applies to your use of such materials can be viewed in the support section of our website.

3. Pricing & Payments

Digital content must be paid for in advance using the available online payment providers Paypal and Braintree (hereafter the 'payment providers'). No credit card information is either processed by or stored on our server other than the user's name and billing address (see clause 4), but is dealt with by the systems of the payment providers.

Prices are inclusive of any applicable VAT and are in Great British Pounds Sterling (GBP). Other currencies displayed on the website are approximate and are calculated using the latest available conversion figures but the user will always pay the original GBP price.

4. Personal Information

In accordance with EU law, the user's name, billing address, IP address and email address are stored on our server as proof of country of residence only when making a purchase, so as to ensure the correct amount of tax (such as VAT) can be applied to each transaction. We will never, ever use this information for any other purpose.

Further information can be found in our Privacy Policy.

5. Issuing of Invoices and Downloading Products

After making a purchase on the website, the user will be automatically issued with a confirmation email, sent to the email address entered during the checkout process, containing all billing information (product(s) ordered, associated price(s) and total order amount in GBP) and applicable download links.

Clicking a download link will open a page on the website in the default internet browser of the user's operating system, wherein the user can choose between available formats if applicable to the purchased product(s) and proceed to download the digital content itself.

The user will also receive an automatic email receipt issued from the payment provider used.

6. Refund Policy

As our products are 100% digital and instantly downloadable after purchase, we are unable to provide users with refunds unless either there is a proven fault with the product, or if a user's Paypal account or credit card is charged fraudulently.

Please make sure to fully explore any product's descriptive information before making a purchase, including reading descriptive text, detailed content specifications and listening to any audio demo files.

If the user is unsatisfied with the content of any purchased digital content, we will make efforts to exchange it for another product or service of equal monetary value as the original transaction. Exchanges are limited to one per transaction and we reserve the right to refuse an exchange where we feel user error is the cause for any user dissatisfaction.

7. Law and Jurisdiction

The website terms and conditions as displayed on this page will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Scotland. Any disputes relating to these terms and conditions shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Scotland.

8. Intellectual Property Rights

Whilst we endeavour to ensure that the information displayed on the website is correct, we do not warrant its completeness or accuracy. Whilst we will endeavour to keep the website and our products available, we do not commit to ensuring that the material on this website is kept up-to-date.

11. The Right to Challenge Transactions

We reserve the right to challenge the legal standing of a transaction if we feel we have reason to. We will contact the user individually in such an event to confirm his/her identity.
